Western Women's Canadian Football League (WWCFL) – 2016 Season

The 2016 WWCFL marked a return to the top by Western Canada's top football team, the Saskatoon Valkyries. The four-time WWCFL champion from 2011-2014 was upended in 2015 by the Regina Riot, and the two teams split a pair of close contests in the 2016 WWCFL regular season. But in the playoffs, Saskatoon knocked off the Riot and dominated the Western Conference champion Edmonton Storm for their fifth WWCFL championship in six years.

Championship game result: Saskatoon Valkyries 81, Edmonton Storm 6 (in Lethbridge, ALB)

Five teams took part in the league’s first season, with the Vaqueros (or Cowboys) making the championship game with an undefeated record. But in the 2015 FXF Master Ladies championship game, the Storms avenged a regular season loss and upset the Vaqueros to capture the first 11-player Mexican national championship.

In addition to an “Opal Series” for flag football and a five-player full-contact “Sapphire Series”, BAFA started a “Diamond Series” in 2014 to familiarize Great Britain women with the 11-player game. Top players from the Sapphire Series were assembled onto two teams, patriotically named Team Blue and Team Red, and these two teams played a three-game exhibition series in 2014. Team Red won two of the three games to capture Great Britain’s first 11-player title.

Poland Women's Football National League (PWFNL) – 2016 Season

In 2016, they twice squared off against another Polish team for the first time, the Opole Vixens. Although both meetings ended with the same lopsided score, it may one day lay the foundation for a full-fledged Polish women's football league.

Svenska Amerikansk Fotbollförbundet – Damer (SAFF-D) – 2016 Season

The 2016 SAFF-D season was the fifth year of Sweden's top national women's football league, and for the first time, the league crowned a new champion. The four-time defending league champs, the Stockholm Mean Machines, were knocked out of the 2016 playoffs by the Arlanda Jets. That opened the door for the Orebro Black Knights, who suffered a shutout defeat in the previous year's title game, to finish off an undefeated season and take home the 2016 Swedish national championship.

2016 Scandinavian Bowl:

A planned Scandinavian women's football tournament was scrapped in 2016 when Sweden withdrew over concerns regarding the structure of the contests. Two teams from Finland and Norway, however, agreed instead to play an international exhibition between them, a game they dubbed the Scandinavian Bowl and won by the host team in Finland.
